Ensure you have the necessary technical resources and a stable internet connection for online examinations. This is your last chance to appear for the lab exam. Candidates are required to log in at least 15 minutes prior to the commencement of the actual lab examination to ensure that there are no issues regarding the system and other technical matters. The university is not responsible for any issues related to your laptop, desktop, or your internet connectivity.

Note: If any student who would like to attend the exams and his number is not displayed above, you are required to immediately write to the help desk for your inclusion. Use your official email address, semester and lab exam name for inclusion.

Best regards,
